

Vine Van Gogh, Take Some Time to Sip & Paint

HUDSON VALLEY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, October 22, 2014

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Vine Van Gogh is a small business which combines education and entertainment to come up with a unique and original concept. From a vision which started in the artistic culture of Hudson Valley, New York, owners Tim Palladino and Melissa Palladino sought to bring that culture to their clients through a sip and paint. A sip and paint is an opportunity to have a glass of wine while completing a painting. The great thing about these gatherings is that they give people time to socialize and have fun with their friends. Participants do not have to be an artist in order to take part in these events. The main theme is that a picture is worth a thousand smiles or in other words that this is casual fun and artistic skill is not a requirement.

Vine Van Gogh events, which feature anywhere from 10 to 150 people, include a guided lesson on how to create a painting. Sessions are taught by highly talented painters. Vine Van Gogh is a 100 percent mobile business. Sessions can be setup wherever a client wants. In fact Vine Van Gogh is interested in partnering with theme parks, cruise liners and sports teams for expanding a series of locations. This is in addition to parties which are often held in either local businesses or residential homes. Vine Van Gogh also includes special parties for fundraisers, corporate events and a special Van Gogh Jr. layout for children between the ages of seven and fifteen. They are even working on Vine Van Gogh On Demand for any television, computer or mobile device. In all Vine Van Gogh has hosted over 80 fundraisers and 1500 students.

All of the little details in the Vine Van Gogh concept are being planned so that the process can be duplicated. This would lead into franchising Vine Van Gogh. As a completely mobile business Vine Van Gogh could eventually grow throughout the tri-state region and eventually the entire country. At that point anyone can partake in franchising and own a part of the Vine Van Gogh vision.

Currently there is an Indiegogo crowdfunding campaign running until November 27th to assist with franchising. Those who share the campaign could win an event for 20 people, this will be given to the contributor that generates the most funds for the campaign. The second place winner will receive a brand new iPad Mini with a retina display. Crowdfunding rewards include:
