The Brandt-Swift-Associates.com Foundation in Partnership with the Institute Of Asian Education Recognize 30 Outstanding Young Leaders From Around the World

DOWNTOWN CORE, SINGAPORE, SINGAPORE, October 22, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fifty outstanding college students from 22 countries around the globe have been selected to participate in the prestigious Brandt-Swift Associates Leadership Institute. They have earned their places in the Brandt-Swift Associates Leadership Program through a combination of remarkable extracurricular contributions and outstanding academic accomplishments. Among some of their accomplishments: establishing a medical camp for children in rural South Asia and analyzing and supporting efforts to diminish the effects of political imbalances in educational institutions in the Balkans.

The Institute brings together these future leaders for a week of seminars and practical training and is designed to help students enhance leadership skills, increase awareness of global issues, and prepare for distinctive service to society and their future professions, while networking across cultures. Institute sessions include a leadership workshop, finance and public policy leadership workshops and international business seminars led by senior Brandt-Swift Associates executives. Highly regarded leaders from education, business, nonprofit, international relations, and humanitarian organizations will address these students as part of the curriculum for the program. "The Brandt-Swift Associates Leaders Program strives to recognize the achievements of outstanding college and university students worldwide and to contribute effectively to their training and preparation as future leaders," said Ben Chiu, President of The Brandt-Swift Associates Foundation. "With training and support, these inspired young people and others like them can shape a better world for all of us, as they assume positions of leadership in their respective countries."
