

Env., Health & Safety Consultancy Paul Huber Limited becomes Daedalus Safety; Launches New Web Site

Following a branding project, Paul Huber Ltd, EHS consultancy in the UK, serving clients globally, launches its new brand under the name of Daedalus Safety Ltd.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 23, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Founded in 2010, Paul Huber Limited, an Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) consultancy based in the UK and serving customers globally, announces that as of September 2014 it will be trading as Daedalus Safety Limited.

"The change of brand name is a result of looking more closely at how we work with clients, and what is distinctive about our approach to serving our customers. According to legend, Daedalus was a talented engineer who built complex labyrinths and solved safety puzzles, which is a great metaphor for what we stand for -- coming up with practical, down-to-earth solutions, and working hard to solve our clients' environmental, health and safety puzzles," says Mr. Paul Huber, Founder and Managing Director of Daedalus Safety. "The new logo of Daedalus Safety is based on the age-old symbol of a maze, a puzzle that we are ready to solve," he adds.

The relaunched web site of Daedalus Safety Limited, www.daedalus-safety.com contains a description of the services offered and also features clients' testimonials as well as job openings within the company that is expanding. Our goal is to grow to 10 consultants by 2016.

"Our team consists of experts in such fields as environment, fire, health and safety management, ergonomic assessment and design, occupational health support and others. Each of our experts has many years of experience in the EHS field at such companies as Compaq Computers, Sun Microsystems, Hewlett Packard, Bank of New York, Marriott Hotels, Starwoods Hotels, L'Oreal, Diageo, Uniq Foods and Marks and Spencer. We are hoping to attract several more experts of similar calibre to join our team within the coming months," adds Paul Huber.

The new name, web site and visual identity are the result of a branding project undertaken in cooperation with Brussels-based consultancy Schmoozy Fox.
