instrumentalist music is a transcending theme in both albums.

Carrigan has been around music his entire life. He constantly listened to different styles of music as a child and has been playing the piano since he was just four years old. Now Carrigan has completely written "Fostering Love". The album was completed in only a few months of driven hard work and dedication. In many ways the new album is a continuation of "Austin's Heart" so far as Carrigan is concerned. The music is intended to send a message of love, hope and belief. Carrigan lives by the credo hope, believe, deserve and receive. This is an expression of Carrigan's personal goal of making a positive difference in the lives of others. This includes enhancing people's lives by creating entertaining and inspiring music. Economic realities have put a tremendous amount of pressure on the release of "Fostering Love". This is a fact of life for most musical artists. He has now been faced with an ultimatum from studios, either he has to sell 25,000 copies of his album or provide a $25,000 investment in order to have his album produced professionally. In order to meet the goal of releasing "Fostering Love" Carrigan Chantz has launched an Indiegogo crowdfunding campaign which will run until December 25th or Christmas Day.
