“

This awe-inspiring book captures the genuine meaning of love. It captivates the reader's emotions in a way like none other!

Jeff Foster, Acquisitions Editor

Love for Miss Langley is an overwhelming read about a teacher's journey to finding true love, the lessons she learns along the way, and the particularly unique student she meets on this journey.

Tate Publishing acquisitions editor Jeff Foster stated, "We are very much excited to welcome Kaelin into our family of Tate authors... This awe-inspiring book captures the genuine meaning of love. It captivates the reader's emotions in a way like none other!"

The author feels equally confident and thrilled about her partnership with Tate Publishing, stating that, "I know someone who has been published through Tate Publishing, and her experience has been fantastic, so I figured that they would be perfect for me too."

When asked about the inspiration behind the story in the book, the author replied, "I want young girls and adult women alike to know that they can be loved for who they are, not just what they look like. I also believe that romance stories don't have to be full of smut and sex, because that is not what love is truly about."

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Kaelin Scott embarked on her passion for writing at a young age. Her career in the education sector prompted her to create a book that would inspire girls to steer clear of peer pressure, to make right decisions and still be cherished and respected. Kaelin now lives on a ranch in the South of Texas with her husband.
