

The Institute of Configuration Management Offers Advanced CMII Classes Online

ICM is the Only Training Company to Offer Configuration Management Courses Online.

PHOENIX, AZ, USA, November 24, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Institute of Configuration Management (ICM) is now offering advanced CMII classes online. This makes CMII training the most accessible and recognized configuration management training standard in the industry.

CMII-01 through 05 are now available online with course CMII-06 being added to the schedule in the first quarter of next year. With the addition of CMII-05 and CMII-06, online students will be able to earn a CMII Comprehensive Certification at their convenience. Students who have completed online courses through ICM have given great reviews, including this one, "I have learned that the CMII approach is the smartest and most efficient way to run a business."

President of ICM, Vince Guess, stated, "We offer four levels of CMII certification which include CMII Basics, CMII Comprehensive, CMII Advanced, and CMII Professional. Over 8000 CM professionals have completed the courses required for CMIIIC certification."

ICM is also the only provider of CM training to offer online certification. For additional information please visit icmhq.com
