

Leading Energy Efficient Window Manufacturer Joins Washington Building Congress

Intus Windows, is pleased to have joined the Washington Building Congress, to help advance the construction industry through collaboration and networking.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, December 2, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- We are pleased to announce that our company has joined the Washington Building Conference,” says Aurimas Sabulis, managing director of Intus Windows (<http://www.intuswindows.com/>), a worldwide leader in the manufacture of high performance window products. “The WBC s a non-political association dedicated to building relationships with and among our members, encouraging collaboration on best practices, and working together to advance our industry.”

According to Sabulis, there are more than one 1000 members of the WBC, each representing a diverse cross section of the building industry.

“These members include property owners and managers, developers, general contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, realtors, architects, engineers, government officials, public utilities, accountants, manufacturers, bankers, lawyers, bonding agents, labor unions, trade associations, consultants, and virtually any other type of business with an interest in the construction industry.”

Sabulis says that the WBC has reciprocal relationships with other local and national building industry organizations and encourages its members to engage with those that offer resources for the pursuit
