

Authors Faith Ecklund and Carrie Case shares inspiring story on 'Walking with Wheels'

Authors Faith Ecklund and Carrie L. Case share with us an inspiring story in their book "Our Friends in Chairs with Wheels".

NASHVILLE, TENN. -- , UNITED STATES, December 8, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- NASHVILLE, Tenn. -- Authors Faith Ecklund and Carrie L. Case share with us an inspiring story in their book "Our Friends in Chairs with Wheels".

A book that teaches young children and parents alike on valuable lessons in life, "Our Friends in Chairs with Wheels" was inspired by Carrie Case's father who suffered from Multiple Sclerosis and was confined to a wheelchair. "I wanted a book for my kids that talked about, 'just being normal' around people who use wheelchairs," shares Case.

A book that needs to be in every home, in every doctor's office, in every nursing home for kids when they visit grandma and grandpa, and in every school!

"This is a book that needs to be in every home, in every doctor's office, in every nursing home for kids when they visit grandma and grandpa, and in every school!" states Aybrey Nicole Ventic, Acquisitions Editor of Tate Publishing.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release, through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Carrie L. Case is a Graphic Designer by trade and resides in Fircrest, Washington with her husband, three daughters, and her dog, Buddy.

Faith Ecklund lives in Nashville, Tennessee with her husband, Shane, and two dogs, Berkeley and Ellie Mae. In 1997, she was in a car accident that left her paralyzed. For some, seeing her in a chair is strange, but to her, it has become normal. Faith's hope for the book is that it will encourage others to ask questions, and become more comfortable with seeing people in wheelchairs.
