

Lelectrolab releases new LP "World Disclosure" on Qualia Records

"The lightness and the brutality of his noise create a unique harmony"

NAMUR, NAMUR, BELGIUM, December 13, 2014 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The artist of electronica music known as Lelectrolab has released his latest and definitive full-length album, "World Disclosure." The record comprises no fewer than 13 original tracks for an approximate total listening time of one full hour. It has been released on the Qualia Records independent music label without the involvement of the corporate music industry. Lush, full, and bursting with bass and imaginative melodies, "World Disclosure" by Lelectrolab is not named for the artist's global distribution, but for the universal effect his music is sure to have on music fans everywhere.

Lelectrolab cites as main artistic influences M83, Kavinsky, Deadmau5, and Daft Punk. His own instrumental sounds are danceable in the extreme, but also highly textured for an intriguing casual listen. Absolutely more than mere "EDM," Lelectrolab's "World Disclosure" tilts more toward what might be termed the classical music of the future.

"Music is an emotion," the artist writes of his inspirations. He states that his music aims to describe a "sci-fi universe located between the power of electro- and the sweetness of harmonics."

His new LP album, "World Disclosure" has elsewhere been called "an ingenious blend of electro- influence and feelings. The lightness and the brutality of his noise create a unique harmony."

The official bio of Lelectrolab reveals it to be a musical project created by Harold Kinet, member of Discoclashers. "His productions reflect well his state of mind," artist appears on the Konectick Digital label of Lille, France. Lelectrolab's "Tasty Sugar" single from the "Analogy" EP received widespread acclaim and is expected to ship on compilations in short time. Kinet has performed live at Vecteur, Rockrill, Verdur Rock, Belvédère, Lido of Spa, and the Vibration Festival.

Lelectrolab describes himself as a DJ, a producer and an ambitious man who needs to share music. His official bio states that his first goal is to enjoy the scene by entertaining the crowd.

"Music gives feelings and has to be breathtaking," he writes.

"World Disclosure" by Lelectrolab is available online worldwide. Get in early.
