Patrick Bass, InfoSecurePCI co-founder and credit card security expert said, "Our low-cost template package helps ensure that quality documentation is available to a wide base of merchants and service providers. Now, we are happy to announce a complete line of PCI-related professional services."

The company recently begin offering online training, penetration testing, documentation creation, vulnerability scanning and remediation, and other professional services. "We have strategic partnerships with premier QSA companies so that our clients have access to fair and competent QSAs when needed," said Bass, a former QSA and Chief Information Security Officer for a major credit card processor. "That relationship allows InfoSecurePCI to offer expanded services to our ever-growing client base. In fact, we recently helped a major IT provider achieve compliance as a level-1 service provider and we are currently working with several other large level-1 and 2 merchants and service providers on active engagements. Despite our relatively smaller size, we have clients nationwide," remarked Bass.
