

Garppy – The First Attachable Toothbrush Mouth Rinser

Aims to Make Tooth Brushing Fun for Kids

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, January 20, 2015

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Dental hygiene has been a long practice of humans, stretching back to our ancient times. But that didn't stop modern kids from disliking the daily routine. Many parents scramble new tricks in an effort to make the experience more attractive. Telling stories, buy musical toothbrushes, and singing songs are tactics parents use from their sleeves to spice up the process. To help improve the experience for kids and parents, Funmodity has created a new interesting product. They called it the "Garppy", a multi-tone color silicone cup that can attach to almost any manual toothbrush for an easy rinse. This jolly little invention not only adds a level of fun for kids, but provides a good amount of conveniences for adults as well. To help push the project into production, Funmodity just launched a Kickstarter campaign this month.

Garppy, attachable toothbrush mouth rinser

The Garppy, which finished development last month, is designed for ease of use, to save space, and travel friendly. The amount of handy benefits it offers might just persuade parents to give it a try.

"Ever since I started using it," The Creator of Garppy says. "I stopped cupping water with my hands." Others are also agreeing on how useful the Garppy is. "This product is fun and useful and it even encourages my kids to brush and rinse properly." From The Children's Nook.

This new toothbrush accessory is made from food grade silicone and is set for release in the US market for $2.99. Parents can snatch one up for their kids on Kickstarter today for just $2.

The Garppy team appreciates the support of early backers for spreading words about the projects online through social media such as Facebook, Twitter, and Tumblr to share this Kickstarter fundraiser.
