BOCA RATON, FL, USA, February 2, 2015
/EINPresswire.com/ -- This Valentine's Day: Give Your Loved One a Gift Sweeter than Chocolate.

This Expert Knows the Perfect Gift Anyone Married, Single, or Divorced can Enjoy This Year!

INSTANT FINANCIAL GUEST: Kathleen Grace, author of financial novel Prince Not So Charming®.

Chocolates and flowers are sweet, but they never seem to stick around for very long. What's even sweeter and stays long after Valentine's Day has past is knowing you're safe in every aspect of your relationship, especially financially. Certified financial expert and author of Prince Not So Charming® Kathleen Grace knows how to help you give the gift of protection this Valentine's Day.

Kathleen Grace, author of Prince Not So Charming®, says that financial independence gives you choices, "You never think things will go wrong, but they can and do. Whether through divorce, disability, death or other circumstances, women shouldn't solely rely upon one person as the provider. Nine out of ten women will be solely responsible for the finances at some point in their lives, therefore, it is important for women to protect and empower themselves to take control of their financial future before a crisis occurs," says Grace, Managing Director at United Capital in South Florida.

Talk to Kathleen About:

- Financial strategies that will help you safeguard yourself and those you love.
- The importance of maintaining financial independence whether you're happily married, single or contemplating divorce.
- Strategies for women to regain power and avoid financial ruin.
- Ideas to reduce the financial and emotional strains caused by relationships, divorce, disability and death.
