

Car Park Dash, Parkour on Your Device Today

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, January 22, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As a genre endless runners make for great mobile games. These games are often simple to learn but take a lot of practice and quick reflexes in order to truly master. Car Park Dash, the brainchild of game designer Samuel Dominello, is a perfect example of a quality runner game. This is a passion project which Samuel is ready to share with gamers everywhere. This fun and addictive game took two years to develop and is well-suited for players of all ages. Literally anyone pick this game up and enjoy it on the go. Players can challenge each other to see who the best runner really is.

The app idea for Car Park Dash is similar in theory to many of the endless runner games currently on the market and available for download. This game synergizes really well with one handed gaming control. For those who are new to the concept, in an endless runner the player character is constantly moving and cannot slow its forward momentum. However this game stands out from the crowd. For one thing there will be a professional music composer hired in order to assist with the soundtrack for this title. This soundtrack will be tailored to suit the Car Park Dash action. This means that gamers can happily leave the sound on for this game when it is released. To make sure that the game runs smoothly and that the final product fulfills the game concept an expert app development team will help finish the project.

Car Park Dash has a very urban feel. The majority of the action takes place in or around parking lots as the game incorporates the action of parkour onto your mobile device. Customizable characters have the ability to run through many different car parking lot levels. These levels all have a different layout of vehicles. Players travel through these parking lots on their endless journey forward. Players can also collect power-ups which give your runner awesome benefits. There are many obstacles to your favorite runner in Car Park Dash, vehicle owners are not thrilled about the runner hurdling over their car. These enemy characters will chase after you and try to hurt you. Characters can even be hit by oncoming traffic, it is a well-known fact that you should not run in front of an oncoming truck but in Car Park Dash that is easier said than done. However with some quick moves, including a well-timed roll, your character can continue to advance. The challenge makes Car Park Dash a different and better kind of runner.

At this point in time the game design is complete and Car Park Dash itself is ready to be fully developed. Car Park Dash will then be launched as a mobile game which will be compatible and playable with several platforms including iOS and Android. The game will follow the worldwide popular trend of freemium gaming. It is important to note that none of the additional benefits will not ruin the normal game experience. In other words you do not have to buy in-game currency but if you do it will make the game a lot more fun. A key part of Car Park Dash is the customization of the characters each with their own distinct look and movements. Having the ability to access in-game currency allows players to get these characters without having to wait.

In order to bring all of the action and fun of parkour onto your phone Car Park Dash an Kickstarter crowdfunding campaign has been launched. This campaign is currently ongoing and will conclude on February 22th. There are several rewards associated with this campaign and most of them revolve around currency bonuses for the game. This is the best and cheapest way to get in-game currency. Players who take advantage of this will be ready to unlock the available options when the game is released. Those who make a crowdfunding pledge of just five Australian dollars will receive 5,000 dollars of Car Park Dash money. Contributors will also be given constant updates during the development process of this game. More rewards information is available on the Car Park Dash Kickstarter page.
