WADSWORTH, OHIO, USA, January 23, 2015

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Every one of us has some form of intuition, that inner voice and guidance system. Every one of us can access this power, but it's not enough to simply tap into our intuitive energy. To truly begin to see life through our heart, we have to trust it, too.

Renee Maira is a Holistic Bio-Energetic Synchronization Therapist and the founder of Maira Moon Consulting, specializing in transformational coaching and integrative vibrational medicine.

"Every person has an energy field around their body," explains Renee. "Imbalances and stress induced energy cause the body to become divided. Integrative Bio-Energetic medicine is based on the fact that no element separates body, mind and spirit. A practitioner can renormalize the body's energy so that the patient feels more centered, refreshed and revitalized. That is what a person with these types of gifts has to offer."

Renee discovered her intuitive abilities following a near-death experience. After her accident, she says she became much more sensitive to her intuition and more connected to her true self. Renee will often share her story with clients.

"I do have to say that this is their attraction," laughs Renee. "They are intimately drawn to it because it gives me the opportunity to express the unknown to them and help them begin to think deeper into their soul."

What we want is already in front of us. All we have to learn how to do is become more aware and control our thought vibrations.

And that's what transformational coaching is all about. As a transformational coach, Renee takes you to that core, your deepest spiritual belief. Your core has to be healthy for you to find the solutions to your problems whether they be your relationships, business direction or your life's purpose.

"What we want is already in front of us," says Renee. "All we have to learn how to do is become more aware and control our thought vibrations. What we think is what we become."
