

Suspense-thriller novel, “Promiscuous Puppeteer” awarded Editor’s Choice on Carry on Harry Author Walter Biondi, writer of Bestselling novel, “Jeremiah’s Tale” shares another award-winning novel to aficionados.

PORT LUDLOW, WASH. --, UNITED STATES, January 31, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- PORT LUDLOW, Wash. – Author Walter Biondi, writer of Bestselling novel, “Jeremiah’s Tale” shares another award-winning novel to aficionados. With his latest novel, “The Promiscuous Puppeteer,” Biondi’s book has garnered increasing interest and has been given the Editor’s Choice Award for the Featured Author of the Week on Carry on Harry, a Singapore-based talk show.

“The Promiscuous Puppeteer,” is a multifaceted story of a secret gold exploration company funded by a syndicate comprised of some of the largest mining companies in North America and a CEO who is approached by a Mexican Native American woman, whose skills, from a sordid and seedy past, have the potential to help launch the world’s largest gold discovery onto the international stage.

“

Many surprising sub plots woven into the overall plot. An enlightening experience. A powerful primary character and cast of several. The story is rich in details and intensifies.

D’Arcy Blobaum, Acquisitions Editor

During the interview on Carry on Harry, Biondi reveals that the suspense thriller took him three years to write. Whilst being in the turquoise-jewelry business, the idea of creating a geologist character and a secret gold exploration company in the novel came to mind in one of his mining ventures in Nevada. The tough persona of the Puppeteer was also partly inspired by his own life experience as a fifteen-year-old runaway who survived the rough life on the streets.

Carry on Harry’s Editor’s Choice Award is the second award garnered by the “Promiscuous Puppeteer” after the novel was also featured last October 2014 as the “Book of the Month” on BWD Magazine, a variety magazine that features music, modeling, book authors, writers, entertainment, sports, arts, lifestyles, and fashion.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book is now available through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Walter B. Biondi is the author of best-selling novel, Jeremiah's Tale. As a fifteen-year-old-runaway who barely survived life as a homeless street kid. He survived near starvation, hypothermia, a life threatening beating, and jail cells. He was inspired to turn his life around at the age of eighteen. Biondi eventually moved to the top as a financial and public service success. He went from a jail cell to corner executive suites as one of the Heads of two Federal law enforcement agencies, and was awarded as President Clinton's Distinguished Senior Executive of the Year.

Early in his career Walter Biondi began writing professionally for newsletters, monthly periodicals and wrote text booklets. On the side, he wrote short stories and poems for the entertainment of himself and others.

For more info about the award, visit the Carry on Harry website: <http://www.carryonharry.com/editors-choice.php>

###

For more information or interview requests please contact Michelle Whitman, publicist, at (405) 458-5642 or send an email to michelle@keymgc.com.

Michelle Whitman
Key Marketing Group
(405) 458-5642
email us here

This press release can be viewed online at: <http://www.einpresswire.com>

Disclaimer: If you have any questions regarding information in this press release please contact the company listed in the press release. Please do not contact EIN Presswire. We will be unable to assist you with your inquiry. EIN Presswire disclaims any content contained in these releases.

© 1995-2015 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.