

Comprehensive ISO 27001 package from IT Governance improves cyber security preparedness for APAC businesses

IT Governance has recently released a new package, which contains a comprehensive mix of core tools, training and guidance to help businesses get cyber secure.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, February 11, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global provider of cyber security solutions IT Governance has recently released its ISO 27001 Get A Lot Of Help Package, which contains a comprehensive mix of core tools, training and guidance to help businesses get cyber secure.

“We’ve combined the most essential ISO 27001 products and services to help businesses implement the Standard themselves without the associated costs of hiring consultants,” explains Alan Calder, founder and executive chairman of IT Governance. “The Get A Lot Of Help Package has been our most popular, providing businesses with the right practical tools and guidance.”

The drive to help APAC businesses get cyber secure comes after the Global Cyber Security Index 2014 ranked Australia and Malaysia joint third globally in tackling cyber security issues. Among other countries in the region, Indonesia ranked 13th globally, Thailand ranked 15th and the Philippines 17th.

The comprehensive mix of resources in this fixed-price package has been popular among businesses worldwide, helping them successfully implement cyber security best practices aligned with the international information security standard, ISO 27001.

The adoption of ISO 27001 has grown rapidly throughout the Asia-Pacific region as businesses recognise the significant benefits that certification to the Standard brings. As well as making sure all of a business’ assets are secure (including people, processes and technologies), the internationally recognised Standard helps organisations win new business by improving their supply chain assurance.

According to the most recent ISO Survey (2013), there are 10,748 organizations certified to the Standard in East Asia and the Pacific, with China and Japan leading the tables.

The ISO 27001 Get A Lot Of Help Package contains three official ISO 27000 standards, implementation guides, Live Online training courses, a definitive risk assessment tool, a documentation toolkit, and Mentor and Coach consultancy.
