

Authentic Rock Band 'Gandhi's Gun' To Return Quality Rock and Roll to Today's Listeners

Through Their Latest Album 'Subject to Change', New Christian Rock Band Delivers a Powerful Message of Hope

SAN ANTONIO, TX, USA, February 17, 2015

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Gandhi's Gun, a new Christian band returning quality rock and roll with a scarcely heard message back to the radio, has just released their latest album "Subject to Change" at the 2014 Inspiration 4 Life benefit for children. The band's mission is clear: to grow beyond their role as the greatest up-and-coming rock and roll band by meeting out service-oriented goals in the community at large, and bringing a message of hope to the world of rock music.

The members of Gandhi's Gun emerged to deliver after observing that the industry and culture are desperate for a band with the sound and image that speak to them, accompanied by the courage to step out of industry standards to show their audience that there is abundant life outside of drugs, alcohol, sex, and all other forms of mayhem. "This 'abundant life' is more than an alternative; it is the life. And it's crazier, more edgy, and it's where the fire never sleeps." Says lead singer, Mik Rowe, who realizes it is essential to combine a positive message with the adrenaline boost served up best by the sound and feeling of rock and roll music. "We are Rock and Roll, done right, with a purpose and a mission."

Upon release of their newest record, Gandhi's Gun set off on tour throughout their home state of Texas with Christian Rock Juggernauts "Thousand Foot Krutch" www.thousandfootkrutch.com, right out of the gate. "When we hit the stage, it was immediately a perfect fit," Rowe relates. "As a new band to the Christian Rock scene, we had never played to that market. As you can imagine, we weren't sure what the response would be to our music and show. I realized instantly that not only did we receive all the support in the world from the crowd, but that we loved who we were playing for and with. It was a mutual love." After the shows, Gandhi's Gun was sure to stick around signing autographs, posing for photos with fans, and taking the time to speak to each fan that approached. In fact, the connections the band made on tour have proven ongoing with the launch of the Gandhi's Gun Facebook page, whose likes increased by several hundreds immediately following the tour's commencement.

Both preceding the band's tour with TFK and upon its conclusion, lead singer Mik Rowe fulfilled opportunities to play two intimate acoustic shows: first taking place at "The Study" hosted by life-coach to the stars Tim Storey www.facebook.com/getstorey; and finally, at "The Cove" to benefit the food bank in his hometown of San Antonio, alongside of friend and fellow artist/producer Bryan Scott of "Cult to Follow" and "The Union Underground" www.facebook.com/culttofollowofficial. Working closely with the members of Gandhi's Gun, Scott likened Rowe's vocals and writing to "something like the next Lenny Kravitz."

About Gandhi's Gun
