

DISTRIBUTE PRESS RELEASE FOR ATTRACTING KOREAN CONSUMERS AND EXPANDING YOUR BUSINESS INTO KOREA

COMWAGON addresses press release distribution services at the lowest rate with a deferred payment system after publications on Korean media.

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA, February 18, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- COMWAGON, Inc. (www.comwagon.com), a Korean-based PR firm today announced that it has launched the press release distribution services for global companies who are looking for a PR agency to handle press release distribution in Korea with a network reflecting its own presence and strength across Korea.

In the areas of IT, electronics, medical, healthcare, and beauty, Korea is one of the largest markets in the world. Moreover, Korea has been currently seeing a high and rapid increase in the number of Korean consumers purchasing products from global online marketplaces including AMAZON, EBAY, NETFLIX, ASOS, TARGET, ALIBABA, SEARS, ZAPPOS, 6PM, and etc.

"We are pretty sure that our press release distribution services are really helpful to the global companies aiming at not only increasing their brand awareness to Korean consumers but seeking Korean local partners to distribute their products in Korea," said Mike Jo, chief AE of COMWAGON.

Unlike press release distribution services of other Korean local PR firms, COMWAGON's services guarantee publication on targeted or related media for the press release after its distribution.

For the high return on investment of the companies, COMWAGON introduced the Korea's lowest service rate and first deferred payment system on the receipt of publication report.

COMWAGON's press release distribution services also include translating English of companies' press releases into Korean in a professional way relevant to Korean media contents and audiences.
