

Rated ETA Partners with SCAD, Creates the STARS Scholarship and Launches Acting Up through Groupon

Rated ETA demonstrates its commitment toward the education and training of local talent.

ATLANTA, GA, USA, March 4, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The company is pleased to partner with Savannah College of Art and Design to establish the Rated ETA STARS® Scholarship. This program will be open to Georgia residents enrolled at SCAD in Atlanta or Savannah, who maintain a 3.0 grade point average, and pursue an undergraduate degree supporting the TV and Film industry. In addition to the initial funding, ten percent of all training revenue will be directed to the Rated ETA STARS® Scholarship Program.

"We believe a commitment begins with an investment to help solve a problem," said Stan Houston, Corporate Spokesman and Actor who played Sheriff Jim Clark in the Academy Award winning movie, Selma. Rated ETA's Education and Training Alliance not only supports undergraduate programs, but also training, seminars, and workshops to broaden the knowledge and skills of those working on both sides of the camera. As the industry continues to expand throughout the region, the demand for trained resources will continue to rise, and Rated ETA is keenly focused on supporting the education and developing the skills necessary to make a contribution in the industry.
