

O&L Leisure Hotels & Lodges Namibia unveils Worldwide “Coming Home” Recruiting Campaign

WINDHOEK, NAMIBIA, March 9, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Namibian hospitality company O&L Leisure Hotels & Lodges unveils a worldwide “Coming Home” recruiting campaign focused on the many Namibian citizens currently working in the hospitality and restaurant industry all over the world. The global campaign will be posted on all relevant social media channels such as Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, Xing amongst others as well as on all relevant Hospitality Career Platforms in Europe, Middle East, Africa, Americas and Asia Pacific supported by Radio, Print, PR and our Website at www-ol-leisure.com/cominghome.

O&L Leisure Hotels & Lodges is currently completing the development of the single biggest private investment of nearly N$ 400 Million in the Namibia tourism industry consisting of the very exciting Strand Hotel Swakopmund, www.strandhotelswakopmund.com as well as the uniquely situated and amazing Chobe Water Villas, right on the banks of Chobe River in the Caprivi, www.chobewatervillas.com

With these exciting and unique developments O&L Leisure is embarking upon creating a new level of Hospitality in Namibia. With this “Coming Home” initiative O&L Leisure invites all Namibian hospitality professionals from all over the world to consider returning home and developing their careers further here in Namibia and joining O&L Leisure in “creating a future and enhancing life” for all Namibians. In the process helping us all grow whilst uplifting the Namibian hospitality industry to achieve a more competitive position within the global Tourism Industry.

Bruce Hutchison, Managing Director of O&L Leisure calls: “If you are a Namibian citizen, working somewhere in the world and are missing your "home", family and friends, the new Strand Hotel Swakopmund and Chobe Water Villas are the perfect opportunities you have been waiting for. An opportunity to return Home and be part of an extraordinary Namibian & International Team of like-minded professionals. Opportunities to share all you have learned internationally with your fellow Namibians back home. Helping all of us create a new level of world class hospitality experiences in Namibia."

He went on to explain: "This "Coming Home" campaign is specifically designed to provide Namibian Hospitality professionals in senior Heads of Department and/or Supervisory positions the opportunity to continue developing their careers without compromise back "home" here in Namibia.

If you are a Namibian citizen, working somewhere in the world and are missing your "home", family and friends, this is the perfect opportunities you have been waiting for.

Bruce Hutchison, Managing Director of O&L Leisure

Both Strand Hotel Swakopmund and Chobe Water Villas are being developed according to set high International Standards and as such will require the hospitality professionals managing and running them to be of an equal standard. This is the only way we will ensure that we match the quality buildings and their interiors – the hardware with the products and services provided – the software."
