

iMindQ 6.2 is HERE, bringing Innovation to Project Planning

Seavus announces the latest release of iMindQ for Windows and Mac, the leading mind mapping software for planning and presentation.

MALMOE, SWEDEN, SWEDEN, March 19, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Malmö, Sweden (March, 2015) – Seavus, an international software development and consulting company is proud to announce the latest release of iMindQ 6.2 for Windows and Mac, leading mind mapping software for planning and presentation.

The newest version of iMindQ for Windows and Mac, offers an innovative approach for all business professionals to present their ideas and visually transform them to an effective project plan, keeping their projects on track and on time. In order to better differentiate and visualize the tasks from the map space into the Gantt chart view, the users can now color the task bars with one single click.

Furthermore, iMindQ 6.2 introduces SharePoint Online integration as a storage platform for better project collaboration. "In our daily communication with enterprise clients, we recognize the business necessity to implement SharePoint Online integration. Our focus is to provide the business users with the flexibility to share their maps on their preferred storage platform, allowing them to communicate more effectively and manage critical business challenges with ease." says Emel Karakash, Account Manager at Seavus.

In addition to the unique integration with SharePoint Online, iMindQ 6.2 is the only mind mapping software able to open Microsoft Project (.mpp) files, without the need to have Microsoft Project installed on the user's computer. Thus, project oriented mind mappers will bring better creativity to their projects and will have a more organized environment in which to track project status.

Additionally, there is great news for all users speaking Portuguese. iMindQ 6.2 for Windows and Mac comes with Portuguese Language support.
