

Dr Pipasha Biswas discusses active surveillance with a focus on ADR'S at Pharmacovigilance gathering this spring

According to a recent study the global pharmacovigilance market is estimated to be worth US$5,008.2 million by the end of 2019.

LONDON, LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, March 25, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Stringent government regulations, issues pertaining to public safety, toughened inspection regimes, coupled with the need of patients to report ailments immediately, has propelled growth in the global pharmacovigilance market.* Source: <http://bit.ly/18BYIUg>

“Excellent speakers, professional, positive atmosphere, very good opportunity for networking, active discussions, adequate timelines, detailed discussions, thank you!”
