

BluePay Completes ACH Integration with Bank of America, Capital One and JP Morgan Chase Bank

BluePay recently completed an ACH (Automated Clearing House) integration with Bank of America, Capital One and JP Morgan Chase.

NAPERVILLE, IL, USA, April 9, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BluePay, a premier merchant account provider for enterprise and B2B clients, recently completed an ACH (Automated Clearing House) integration with Bank of America, Capital One and JP Morgan Chase. With the inclusion of these three prominent banks, BluePay now has direct connections with seven major financial institutions, with plans to grow that number to support their large and expanding customer base.

"Having direct bank integrations to these major players, like Bank of America, Capital One and Chase, is a key differentiator for BluePay as a payment processor for the B2B market," commented Kristen Gramigna, Chief Marketing Officer at BluePay.

BluePay is also integrated with ACB Bank, Comerica, MB Financial and PNC. Merchants of all sizes can choose to process eCheck/ACH payments directly with these financial institutions via the BluePay Gateway, or work with BluePay's Originating Depository Financial Institution (ODFI).

About BluePay: BluePay is a leading provider of technology-enabled payment processing for enterprise, small, and medium-sized businesses in the United States and Canada. Through physical POS, online, mobile interfaces, and software integration, BluePay processes business-to-consumer and business-to-business payments while providing real-time settlement, reporting, and reconciliation, along with robust security features such as tokenization and point-to-point encryption. BluePay is headquartered in Naperville, Illinois, with offices in Chicago, New York and Toronto.
