The Business Research Company's Marine Barges Global Report contains market size of marine barges, profiles of top companies including each company's overview

CANARY WHARF, LONDON, ENGLAND, February 22, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Business Research Company's Marine Barges Global Report contains the market size of marine barges, profiles of top companies including each company's overview, revenue, geographies in which the companies are operating, company sales and distribution structure: direct sales infra structure, dealership/distributor infrastructure, and the company's latest distribution news (as available)

The Global Marine Barges market size covers various types of marine barges such as unpowered or powered barges. The unpowered barges move according to the water current or use a tugboat to drag it across the water channels. In this case both the first mate and the captain remain in the tugboats, as the tugboat provides power and steers the barge. On the other hand powered barges are self propelled and do not require a tug boat's assistance. On self propelled barges the captain and the first mate are on the barge itself.

Scope

- Market size historic and forecast, market shares and regional splits.
- Profiles of top 11 companies containing business operations, distribution strategies, maintenance and service levels, prospects and latest distribution news.
