

New Gambling Review Site Uses Customer Reviews and Ratings System

WinnersChat.com ranks the best online poker, casino, bingo and sports betting sites available on the Web.

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA, May 6, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WinnersChat.com, a new consumer-based review site, launched this month to give gambling enthusiasts the ability to rank the best sites based upon on their personal views and experiences with the most popular online poker, casino, bingo and sports betting sites available on the Web. The launching of WinnersChat.com was announced by the site's Editor-in-Chief, George Barahona.

Best Online Gambling Sites of 2015

Barahona said, "The inspiration and website conceptualization of Winners Chat started almost a year ago. We identified a lack for a truly unbiased gambling review site with a ranking system that combined editor ratings and consumer ratings into an overall rating system."

"It took us a year of web development to create an algorithm that aggregates user opinions with editor rankings, and then lists the top sites ranked in order of greatness," he added. "Our site is now live, delivering content of the highest quality to gambling enthusiast around the globe through a mobile friendly platform."

Winners Chat was developed on the WordPress platform and uses a content delivery network (CDN) provider that delivers content quickly by dynamic routing logic to instruct your browser to display a copy of Winners Chat content files, from the location in nearest proximity to you.

The site was designed and meticulously tested so that every page is fully responsive and looks great on any device at any size, including: desktop, tablets and mobile phones.

In closing, Barahona added, "We already have extensive presence across all the social networks, where we will announce exclusive bonus codes for our community of players as part of our inaugural offer."
