"What makes Arizona unique is over half the diagnosed victims who we have talked to over the years were actually exposed to asbestos in another state. More often than not these new residents of Arizona were exposed to asbestos in the Plains States, Midwest, or the Pacific Northwest, and they now call Phoenix, Tucson, Scottsdale, Flagstaff, Prescott, or Yuma home.

"Regardless of where, or how a diagnosed victim of mesothelioma in Arizona was exposed to asbestos we are urging individuals with this rare cancer to call us at 866-714-6466 so we can provide instant access for the nation's top mesothelioma compensation lawyers, and we need to add these extremely skilled lawyers will almost immediately go to the victim, for a face to face meeting at the victim's home. The victim of this rare cancer does not have to go to the lawyer."

Aside from their focus on making certain all diagnosed victims of mesothelioma in Arizona have the nation's top mesothelioma lawyers, the Center is also incredibly focused on making certain diagnosed victims in the Grand Canyon State have the best possible treatment options, and what hospitals might provide the best possible services. These include:

* Phoenix/Scottsdale The Mayo Clinic: <http://www.mayoclinic.org/diseases-conditions/mesothelioma/basics/definition/con-20026157>

* Tucson-The University of Arizona Medical Center: <http://azcc.arizona.edu/profile/linda-garland>

Because so many diagnosed victims of mesothelioma were probably not exposed to asbestos in Arizona high risk work groups for exposure to asbestos include Veterans of the US Navy, power plant workers, shipyard workers, steel mill workers, oil refinery workers, factory workers, plumbers, electricians, miners, auto mechanics, machinists, and construction workers. Typically the exposure to asbestos occurred in the 1950's, 1960's, 1970's, or 1980's.
