Managing Director of Benckiser Roth Energy, will take on a new role as Chairman of Benckiser Roth Energy, effective next month.

After having established the company's energy business, Paul will be stepping down from his executive responsibilities as the head of Asia Energy and Commodities. In his new role, he will leverage his experience and his internal and external relationships to advance Benckiser Roth's customer proposition across other asset classes in Global Broking to extend product coverage into non-banking clients. He will report to Liu G. Pang, CEO of Pan Asian Broking, and work closely with the regional energy management teams.

Yang Changle, who remains Chief Executive Officer of Benckiser Roth Energy, will take on executive responsibility for Benckiser Roth Energy globally. Gram Lee will take over day to day executive responsibility for Southeast Asia Energy and Commodities.

Liu G. Pang, CEO of Pan Asian Broking, said: "Our energy and commodities business has been at the forefront of delivering excellent client service for many years. It has become the recognized leader in its asset class, which is a testament to the leadership and diligence of the team. I look forward to working with Paul, Liu and Gram as we continue to grow the business in the future."
