

BTC Flap Announces A Limited Time Offer To Purchase Bitcoin At 10% Higher Than Market Rates

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, May 25, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BTC Flap Inc (www.btcflap.com) has just announced that, effective immediately and through the end of the day (GMT) on Saturday, May 23rd, 2015, the company will purchase Bitcoins at 10% more than their market value. The fair price per Bitcoin (or fraction thereof) will be established by Bitstamp, the US-based Bitcoin exchange. While purchases guaranteed at the 10% plus market value rate are limited to sales of 50 or fewer Bitcoins, the company has also announced that they will negotiate other, potentially higher percentage incentives for larger sales.

From their US-based offices, BTC Flap Inc serves clients from all around the globe. Their customer base is made up of forward-thinking investment professionals looking for new financial sectors ripe for development.

"Our clients know traditional investment avenues promise predictably limited returns; the most exciting opportunities for financial growth today exist in emerging technologies and new financial tools, with Bitcoin being far and away the most exciting instrument currently available," said a company spokesman. "When you sell Bitcoin instant, secure cash hits your account. When you invest in Bitcoin, you count on even greater returns down the road."

BTC Flap Inc. has purchased Bitcoin valued at an excess of $2.9 mil in the past six months alone, and they predict that their limited-time offer of a ten percent premium paid on every Bitcoin purchased (or a negotiated rate for customers offering an excess of 50 Bitcoins in a single sale) should see that number soar. The opportunity for those invested in the popular cryptocurrency to sell Bitcoin at an immediate gain is already causing ripples in both the technology and finance arenas.

BTC Flap Inc. prides itself on its extremely user-friendly business model: not only does the company charge its customers no service or transaction fees, but all sales are conducted using a refreshingly simple, straightforward online platform. When customers sell Bitcoin instant cash transfers are made to the account of their choosing via the payment service of their preference, such as PayPal, Western Union, Moneygram, or direct bank transfers. BTC Flap Inc. also offers round-the-clock Live Chat online customer service and quick responses to emails and phone calls. BTC Flap Inc. customers know they are in good hands with the company, and they can rest assured that their transactions will be unfettered by restrictions based on location or preferred internationally-recognized currency.
