

Universal Design Specialists Offers Discounted Automatic Door Opener Packages On Their Website!

Universal Design Specialists just announced that they have added special discounted automatic door opener packages to their Internet Website.

SONOMA, CA, USA, June 4, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Universal Design Specialists just announced that they recently added special automatic door opener packages to their Internet Website at <http://www.universaldesignspecialists.com/automatic-door-openers/>. These complete packages represent their most popular combination of components for both their commercial Model 4300 ada door opener and their residential Model 2300 automatic door openers.

Automatic door openers

The new packages help to reduce the complexity when ordering all the components necessary for a complete automatic door operating system. In addition to simplifying the ordering process and aiding in reducing delays as a result of incomplete orders, these combined handicapped door opener packages offer the lowest pricing available for a complete system. As is typical from Universal Design Specialists, Free Shipping is included in 48 States with subsidized shipping to Hawaii and Alaska for all online orders. The combination of reduced pricing on component parts in a complete system and Free Shipping, substantially reduce to overall cost of purchasing ada door openers.

While not every combination of component is offered in their standard packages, an option exists to add the desired non-included items into the shopping cart with the handicap door openers, thereby qualifying for Free Shipping with the added items too. In this way all needs can be met while still keeping the process simple which was the main reason the company designed these ada automatic door opener packages. We expect that this simplification will work well for our customers in helping to understand what is necessary for a complete system, said Marc Mendelsohn, company President. ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) requirements for automatic handicap door opener installations have changed recently and in order to be compliant in commercial applications, additional equipment is now being required that was previously not the case. For example, two wall switches for both the interior and exterior are being required in all areas that are enforcing this new rule. California typically leads the charge in this area and for this reason the company is now offering specific CA ADA Packages which include the multiple switches required in each automatic door opener ada package.

While simpler to order the company has also developed residential automatic door opener packages for their Model 2300 openers. Ten of their most popular combinations are available at their best pricing with Free Shipping for online purchase only. As with their commercial handicapped door openers additional accessories are available at the time of purchase and may be added to the shopping cart to qualify for Free Shipping.

In all instances the company strongly urges their customers to complete their online Survey for all their ada automatic door openers which substantially reduces the likelihood of ordering the wrong equipment for their specific application. Mendelsohn noted that as much as 60% of the time they are able to catch a potential mistake in the order with a completed Survey and save the customer a lot of unnecessary issues. While we can't be their personally to assist our customers, a well completed Survey is an excellent substitute.
