

Airborne ISR 2015 Conference: Registration is Now Live

SMi's Airborne ISR conference will take place on the 26th - 27th October 2015, London UK

LONDON, ENGLAND, UNITED KINGDOM, June 9, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The increased use and investment in airborne ISR capability is a trend that has swept across both established and emerging militaries on a global scale. By providing accurate and timely intelligence, situational awareness is enhanced and force multiplied. With this, SMi are delighted to announce that registration is now live for the Airborne ISR conference, taking place on the 26th - 27th October 2015 at the Holiday Inn Kensington Forum, London UK.

The 2015 conference aims to cover a variety of key areas, ranging from well-established NATO programmes such as the JISR, to the independent efforts of member states. Additionally, the effective integration of ISR assets, individual and joint training programmes, minimisation of operational costs and the emergence of cutting edge technology shall all feature heavily.

Benefits of attending in 2015 include:

- Hear an insider up-date on NATO's overarching and influential programmes, such as the Allied Ground Surveillance (AGS) programme and the Airborne Early Warning and Control System (AWACS)
- Have the opportunity to hear from and bench mark against strategic partners, an account of their independent efforts to develop and enhance their airborne ISR capabilities
- An ideal forum for the advancement of interoperability and co-operation amongst airborne ISR assets and the opportunity to gain an insight into the industry's fluid and ever advancing technological improvements

Those interested are advised to register before the 30th June to secure their place and save £400.
