

IT Governance announces 30% off ISO 27001 Live Online training courses this summer

IT Governance is pleased to announce that it is offering a 30% discount on the list price of its June and July Live Online training courses.

ASHLAND, OHIO, USA, June 15, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Global cybersecurity solutions provider IT Governance is pleased to announce that it is offering a 30% discount on the list price of its June and July Live Online training courses.

Alan Calder, founder and executive chairman of IT Governance, commented:

“Thanks to IT Governance’s unique Live Online training portfolio, delegates across North America can advance their information security careers from the comfort of their homes or offices without experiencing the expense or disruption of travelling to traditional classroom-based courses. Courses start at 09:00 EDT so that delegates from across the nation can take part.”

The information security Live Online training courses are aligned with the international information security standard, ISO 27001, and help delegates learn how to plan, implement, and audit an ISO27001-compliant information security management system (ISMS).

Delegates across North America can advance their information security careers without experiencing the expense or disruption of travelling to traditional classroom-based courses”

Alan Calder, founder and executive chairman of IT Governance

Calder continues: “Gaining an ISO 27001 Foundation or Lead Implementer qualification is highly sought after in the industry and will be a valuable career step for many. All our courses include the relevant exam so are extremely cost-effective.”

President Obama has acknowledged cyber attacks as a major threat to America’s economic prosperity, national security, and individual liberties.

The recent series of high-profile data breaches has put organizations and retailers under increased pressure to secure their systems and protect their customers. This cannot be done by technological solutions alone, however: organizations need experienced and qualified professionals to manage an ISMS that can continually protect their confidential data.
