

Olympic Gold Medalist Brittney Reese Signs Sponsorship With INVIGORADE

HERMOSA BEACH, CA, USA, June 17, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In order to become one of the best athletes in the world, it takes exceptionable talent, unwavering hard work and a dedication to maintaining a strict regiment of a healthy lifestyle. As a record-breaking five-time World Champion track and field star who has been the best female long jumper in the world for the last six years, Brittney Reese is no stranger to making sacrifices in order to become the best. In 2012 all of her diligence paid off when she won the Gold Medal at the London Olympics. A huge part of an athlete's training is making sure they hydrate adequately to keep their bodies refreshed and energized. With that said, Reese has signed a new sponsorship with INVIGORADE Endurance Drink to become an official national spokeswoman for the beverage company.
