IT Governance USA website gets a responsive design

Visitors to www.itgovernanceusa.com will be able to use any mobile device to browse the full range of resources the website has to offer.

ASHLAND, OHIO, USA, June 23, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- From today, visitors to www.itgovernanceusa.com will be able to use any mobile device to browse the full range of cybersecurity, ISO 27001, PCI DSS, ITIL®, and other resources the website has to offer.

IT Governance, the company behind www.itgovernanceusa.com, has given the website a new responsive design to meet the requirements of its US customers who access information and place orders from mobile phones or tablets.

Alan Calder, founder and executive chairman of IT Governance, says, "The IT Governance website is one of the most searched-for by people looking for cybersecurity, IT governance, risk management, and compliance resources. It's packed with useful information, tools, products, and services that professionals look to access at various stages in their projects and careers.

"I am delighted that, thanks to the website's new responsive design, mobile users will now get a smooth and streamlined experience, making it easier for them to navigate through information pages and place orders."
