GREENFORD, MICH.--, UNITED STATES, July 8, 2015 / EINPresswire.com/ -- GREENFORD, Mich. – Author Audrey Linton has joined forces with Tate Publishing to kick-start the publication process of her book 'P31 Women.' Acquisitions Editor, Shannon Lloyd proudly confirmed Linton's partnership with them in an interview.

Linton's write-up explores the stories of outstanding Biblical women, some of which are unsung heroes, while others stand tall within the annals of time for their wisdom, ingenuity, feminine influence and humility.

The main context of the manuscript draws on these iconic women's virtues and wisdom and highlights the relevance of these virtues within today's society. The book's theme is spun around the verse in Proverbs: 31.

Audrey is able to impart the values of wisdom, ingenuity, feminine influence and humility to help empower women in today's time and age.

The different characters and stories of the women in this book seek to highlight women in today's society where the women of ancient days had similar issues and went through similar problems.

"Several years ago I studied Proverbs: 31 and noticed that this woman was no ordinary housewife, who was loved by her husband and children. She truly displayed entrepreneurial qualities, had a sharp eye for business, and was quick in spotting opportunities. She was able to juggle being a wife, a mother, a business owner and an employee and her crowning glory was that she loved the Lord. I believe she is a true representation of the Bride of Christ," Audrey shares in an interview.

Due to the impact that the chapter had on Audrey, she even went to the extent of setting up her own company called P31 a consulting company focused on honing a woman's entrepreneurial, developmental, and leadership skills.

"Over the years I also started to write blogs and many people became interested in the blogs, especially those who focused on biblical women. Hence, the idea to then put all these stories into a book began."

“Audrey shares a very beneficial book that’s meant to empower women and boost their leadership skills. In this time and age where women are always on the go and focused on their own careers, Audrey has helped given insight on how to properly manage these set of skills,” states Shannon Lloyd.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release, through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Linton is one of 8 children and has expressed her emotions through song and poetry writing. She founded the P31 Consulting, a people-development company focused on building diverse leaders and developing leadership capabilities of individuals.

Linton also founded the HIP Cafe in Wembley, London and co-founded the Designers Daughter organization in Perivale, Middlesex England. She is active in a number of initiatives and organizations for women in business and developing their God-given gifts and was the Senior Policy Adviser for the Women & Equality Unit in the UK Central Government.

Her one great hobby is to travel and has visited China, New Zealand, US, Caribbean, Cameroon and many other countries.
