

The Blogger Network Launches #Blogopedia and Blog Conference Ticket Giveaway

As part of the launch of Blogopedia, The Blogger Network is giving away over 30 tickets to some of the best blog conferences in the world.

FARMINGTON, UTAH, UNITED STATES, July 9, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Premium blog ad network, The Blogger Network, announces the Blogopedia, a free ebook full of the helpful tools and resources for bloggers. As part of the campaign, bloggers who download the Blogopedia can enter to win a ticket to one of 30 upcoming blog conferences. The ticket giveaway is valued at over $11,000.

The Blogopedia has 35 pages of the best resources for bloggers. This includes blogs, plugins, articles, companies, services, websites, networks, social media groups, and eBooks. "Our team scoured the blogosphere and asked top bloggers to compile the best resources to grow your blog. You can find just about anything you might need to know for your blog in the Blogopedia," said Kyle Ivins, VP of marketing for The Blogger Network. Topics are organized by category to make it quick and easy to locate resources.

About The Blogger Network

The Blogger Network began in 2014 as a partnership between Envolve Marketing and some of Utah's most popular lifestyle blogs, lead by the Six Sisters Stuff. The company manages display ads using a proprietary technology to give bloggers a higher amount of demand and competition for their ad space. With this technology, bloggers can earn more money per page and ad view. In addition, the network offers image, video and mobile ads to further diversify the ways bloggers can increase their income and influence. Now nationwide, the company paid out over one million dollars to bloggers last year and has already surpassed that number this year.
