WEST COVINA, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, July 10, 2015

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Experts agree, becoming a successful trader online is easier said than done. While many people aspire to be profitable traders online, without the right training, mindset and willingness to take action the chances are usually quite slim for this to happen. LiveTraders.net, a collaboration of trading professionals stacked with real world experience, have made it their mission to offer transparent services to help these traders succeed. The most recent addition to this, is a Recorded OnDemand version of their live training – the PTS or Professional Trading Course.

“Traders who take the course will get an A to Z of trading the stock market offering them a chance to become a astute trader and trade for a living,” commented a spokesperson for the company. “As they learn to use our proprietary methods and strategies, it's near guaranteed their performance will improve. This course is the real deal. Trading without this kind of knowledge is like using a gun without the proper training.”

According to LiveTraders.net the Professional Trading Course was a two day live course. On-Demand recordings are now available for purchase. The normal price for the course is $1997, but for the launch the company is offering a special discount price of $1497.

In addition to training courses, LiveTraders.net operate a live trading room which is incredibly well reviewed in the trading world, for its honesty and transparency. The team is always available via live chat in the trade room to answer any questions.

Feedback continues to be very positive.

E.R., a trader who uses the room recently said, "Thank you so much for your help and sharing your knowledge. Things are finally looking great and I thank LiveTraders.net all the way!"
