

Finding, Buying and Using the Perfect RV in Print

Certified RV Inspector, Raymond Laubert has written a definitive book for the first time recreational vehicle buyer as well as those looking to upgrade.

HATFIELD, PA, USA, July 9, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- According to RVIA.ORG, for 2014 there were more than 350,000 new RVs sold in the US which represents just 30% of all RV sales. That means that in 2014 alone more than 1 million RV were sold. RVIA.ORG also states that there are over 9 million RVs on the road today. Finding, Buying and Using the Perfect RV takes the buyer from determining what is needed versus what is wanted and then choosing the Perfect RV for their situation. Once the perfect RV is found the book helps to determine if there are any underlying problems by walking the buyer through a comprehensive pre purchase inspection covering all major components of the RV. Finally, the author takes the new RV owner through the process of packing, weighing and using their new RV. Making the process perfect from beginning to end.

Raymond Laubert is a Certified RV Inspector with the National Recreational Vehicle Inspectors Association (NRVIA). He is also a 40 year camping veteran and currently traveling the USA on a full-time basis. He has taken his experience and training with recreational vehicles and written an easy to understand book for those looking to buy their first recreational vehicle or upgrade to a different model.

Purchasing an RV is like buying a house, unlike buying a house, there is no real estate agent to guide you, that is where this book comes in.

Raymond Laubert
