Following the success of its inaugural event in 2014, Stadia & Arena Asia Pacific 2015 will again present an international platform for key decision-makers in the sports venue sector to network, discuss the latest hot topics and meet the leading architects and solution providers.

Some of the highlights of this must-attend event's conference agenda include:

- Asian Venues in Focus: In-depth presentations on sports projects in countries such as China and Australia
- Designing for Extreme Climates (roundtable) – This panel brings together stadium designers, operators and technical experts to discuss the complex challenges to create comfortable, safe environments for players and spectators in increasingly extreme climates.
- Tomorrow's Together: What will shape the venues of the future? – Global design practice Populous present the results of their year-long project to discover how the venues of the future will look, feel and function, undertaken in association with PanStadia & Arena Management magazine.
- Major event master planning: Ensuring a successful event and legacy (roundtable) - Major events have a significant impact on their host cities. This panel will discuss key considerations in approaching the development of a master plan and will draw on a range of examples.
- The cultural specificity of stadia: Creative approaches to sports venue design that best serve a city's way of experiencing sport (roundtable) – A panel of experts will share their own insights and experience based on working on sports projects around the globe, often with challenging local requirements and challenges.
- Global projects in focus: The latest leading-edge designs and approaches for worldwide stadia – featuring presentations on iconic stadium projects in the UK from KSS and the United States from HOK.

The exhibition hall which will be free to access, along with the Stream 2 conference sessions that will focus on Revenue Generation, Venue Management & Technology Innovations, will showcase more than 50 industry-leading companies, covering everything from audio consultancy to tensile roofing; with many introducing their products & services to the region for the first time.

This industry-leading event will bring together high ranking decision-makers with the architects, designers, producers and suppliers from the world of sports venue design/build, operation, management, fit-out and technology for three days of networking, knowledge-sharing and doing business.
