Little Studio Films exports talented Italian Directors Marco Ristori and Luca Boni for Hollywood films.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, USA, July 16, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Little Studio Films, a Los Angeles based production, distribution and representation company owned by Alexandra Yacovlef and Alexia Melocchi, have signed the accomplished Italian directing and producing team of Luca Boni and Marco Ristori for representation and a series of Hollywood projects. Little Studio Films will introduce Boni and Ristori and their body of work to an American audience and Hollywood Studios and executives. Meetings are being set for the film makers to pitch and present their ideas and projects for US film and television productions. Alexia Melocchi, one of the partners of Little Studio Films who is also Italian states, "We are very excited to be working with these film makers. With so many Studio movies being directed by emerging European directors, the door is wide open to welcome the work of Marco and Luca."

Boni and Ristori have been working throughout Europe for some time and their genre films have been distributed worldwide including in the USA. Through their production company Extreme Video, the pair have directed and produced many popular films such as their first horror movie, "Eaters" which was sold in over 20 countries. They followed with "Apocalypse Z" and "Warrior," both of which were produced by German producer Uwe Boll.

Ristori and Boni's epic film.
