/EINPresswire.com/ -- Whether your case is an estate dispute, an inheritance contest, a child or spousal support debt, or collection of a judgment to name just a few, when money is owed to you, having a knowledgeable private investigator on your side can make all the difference in the world.

“

Locating assets, determining a defendant's wealth, and accessing other protected information about someone can be very challenging and an intricate maze to navigate.

An expert investigator has access to important information only accessible via public record databases. This information can determine whether you ultimately get the money owed to you. Whether you are involved in litigation or already have secured a judgment, locating a missing witness or determining a defendant's assets only an experienced investigator has the tools you need. Without an investigator, you have no access to that important public record information only he or she has the expertise to provide to you.

“Locating assets, determining a defendant's wealth, and accessing other protected information about someone can be very challenging and an intricate maze to navigate.” says John A. DeMarr, P.I., a licensed California private investigator since 1985, and president of John A. DeMarr Private Investigators, one of the most trusted firms specializing in accessing public records. “Being knowledgeable about the various nuances of the various information brokers and their databases is critical knowledge for anyone engaged in debt collection or asset location cases.” DeMarr continued.

“Our 30 years of experience makes all the difference, in the service levels and innovative approaches we can offer our clients. Many times our expertise results in a successful outcome where other private investigation firms have failed.”

John A. DeMarr, a well-known Private Investigator in Huntington Beach, has provided consistently innovative private investigation services over thirty years of experience – always reasonably priced, and always within the bounds of applicable law. Courts have upheld DeMarr's investigative techniques in locating witnesses or defendants, enforcement of judgments against deadbeat spouses and parents; successful service of process against residents of gated communities; and location of hidden assets.
