

FreightPros Nominated in 2015 Greater Austin Business Awards

Freight Broker is a finalist for the Austin Technology and Innovation Award

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, August 6, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Local freight broker, FreightPros, has been announced as a finalist for the Austin Energy Technology and Innovation Award at the 15th Annual Greater Austin Business Awards.

The ceremony, presented by the Austin Chamber of Commerce, recognizes business excellence in the greater Austin area. The winners will be announced during a ceremony at the Hilton Austin on August 27th, 2015.

"FreightPros vision is to set the standard for a quality freight experience. To that end we've continually reinvested in our back-end technology tools that allow us to provide accurate and real time freight pricing based on current market data, and build a suite of communication tools to deliver insightful information to our customers so that they are armed with up-to-date business intelligence that allows them to make critical business decisions," said FreightPros founder, Chris Clever. "The feedback from our customer base has been phenomenal, and to be honored along with the other technology focused companies in the Austin area is a testament to the hard work that the whole FreightPros team has put into delivering exceptional support through our innovative solutions."

Finalists were selected from a field of over 300 nominees, with the winners exemplifying new ideas or approaches to doing business in a variety of industries.
