

Become a Wizard with Maguss Wand on Kickstarter!

Prepare to be spellbound!

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK, DENMARK, September 1, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Copenhagen, DK – On August 4 2015, Ondrej Tokar, an enthusiastic fantasy and everything magicrelated fan, has decided to launch a Kickstarter campaign for the Maguss Wand, a unique and interactive handheld device which will allow you to cast spells and become a real wizard. Anyone who has ever thought of magic coming real has been born in to the right age.

“From a young age, I have always been passionate about fantasy, role playing and the magic world. I couldn’t resist a temptation to become a wizard even just for a one day and therefore I have tried anything that would help me to achieve that. That is the reason why I came up with an idea of Maguss Wand,” says the founder, “I wanted to create something that would help people come closer to being a wizard and make them active. Maguss Wand will not only allow them to organize duels against each other anywhere they want but also has a potential to build communities and have a huge social impact.”

Maguss Wand is an electronic device which functions on a similar concept as a laser tag. It is made out of either extra durable plastic or wood and has a traditional wooden texture which makes the wand look stunningly realistic. Together with a receiver and a mobile app, which come in the same package, Maguss Wand will allow you to battle against your opponents in duels, level up and unlock new spells for you to use.

To defeat your opponent in a duel you will have to master the correct spell motion otherwise you won’t hit your target and, probably, lose the battle. That means success in the duel will depend on your handiness and agility. Every hit of an opponent will be accompanied by a specific sound signal. Maguss Wand comes with several basic spells which duelers will be able to cast to defeat their opponents with.

“The duel system we have created makes battles exciting and dramatic. You will be able to not just attack with a spell but also defend or just temporarily ‘stun’ your opponent,” the creator explains, “All the info about the duel will be shown in the application therefore duelers will have all the data they want to know. From how much experiences they have gained, through spells they’ve casted to info about the winner“.

In exchange for pledging to the project, backers can gain access to variety of rewards including a replica of the wand which has no functionality but looks awesome for approx. $29, a Standard Package which includes the Maguss Wand, the Maguss Receiver, credentials for the Maguss App & Website along with a Standard Package of spells for approx. $88, two premium Standard Packages which include VIP status for both and a possibility to reserve a nickname, or a Luxury Package which consists of
