

Theme Song for Pope Francis's Visit to Philadelphia Released

Welcome Pope Francis to Philly in Song!

PHILADELPHIA, PA, USA, September 21, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- "Frankie da Pope," the theme song for Pope Francis's visit to Philadelphia for the World Meeting of Families, has just been released. The funny, yet respectful song/video, captures the plight of Philadelphia and its need for a hero. The Pope could certainly be that hero.

Pope Francis, the first time he hears "Frankie da Pope"

Hoping that all of the assembled throngs will sing along to the chorus ("Frankie, Frankie da Pope...") when the Pope is in town, writer/performer Mike Connor is humbled by the overwhelming response he has received to the song in pre-release/post-release surveys. Said Connor, "I am a former altar boy and I have been writing songs all my life. Yet, this is the first pope song I ever wrote! Weird!"
