deBanked's news feed has been integrated with PSC's dashboard

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, USA, September 29, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- deBanked has successfully integrated its flagship news feed with PSC, a full service solutions provider that specializes in the merchant cash advance industry. Using deBanked's news feed API, PSC's members have native access to the FinTech industry's stories and events.

The feed stands apart from other news platforms because it's not just simply an aggregator of news. deBanked is also one of the leading publishers in the alternative lending industry.

"I am honored that PSC feels our content brings value to their members," said deBanked's chief editor and President Sean Murray. "I believe relevant news and stories are an integral part of keeping the industry's players informed, educated and entertained."

"Partnering with deBanked is a natural evolution in our merchant cash advance dashboard," said PSC's Director of Member Services Alan Brani. "Whether our members are using our platform for servicing their own deals, choosing deals off of our ISO Exchange, utilizing our Syndication Exchange, or obtaining growth capital advances against their own portfolio, they now have access to the latest industry content."
