Acquisitions Editor*

“I have this 1979 study Bible which I bought through the inspiration of my friend and mentor. It had such great sentimental value for me but was already worn out. Instinctively, I decided to save its structure before completely discontinuing its use. I didn’t really know if it could be done, but eventually, I began typing and started with the New Testament. After about a year, I finished off at Leviticus through Malachi and with the inspiration of my daughter and my son-in-law, I decided to have it published through a Christian publisher – and that’s when Tate came in!”

“Biblical contents could be very hard to digest often times as it proclaims the words of God. But Lydia gives readers a precise and clear content delivered in an inspiring and understandable way that is of very great help to people who wish to understand the Bible,” Aubrey Ventic, Acquisitions Editor, states.

Published by Tate Publishing and Enterprises, the book will be available upon its release, through bookstores nationwide, from the publisher at www.tatepublishing.com/bookstore, or by visiting barnesandnoble.com or amazon.com.

Lydia has faithfully served in churches throughout her lifetime as a musician, teacher Sunday School teacher, and in Baptist Training Unions in Houston. She is a faithful tithing member of the Good Hope Missionary Baptist Church and participates in numerous ministries. Lydia completed her Master’s Degree in Education in 1992 and was a teacher at Houston Independent School District for over 22 years.

Lydia has a daughter and three grandchildren. She currently resides in Missouri City, Texas and enjoys music, decorating, travelling, and entertainment with her family.
