

The Asset Integrity North Africa conference to include speakers from QPC, Saudi Aramco, ADCO, and many more.

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, October 14, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- For Immediate Release:

With more than 70% of today's oil production coming from fields older than 10 years, oil and gas operators are now engaging in new price-responsive strategies to react accordingly to the low oil price environment, and the big push is on the optimisation of existing assets.

In Egypt many of these operating companies are looking at ways to re-evaluate maintenance, inspection and turnaround practices to optimise plant efficiency.

The Asset Integrity Management North Africa conference provides a platform for integrity experts to discuss best integrity practices and methodologies to successfully plan, initialise and implement high-level inspection, maintenance and integrity assurance frameworks to deliver, support and maintain asset capabilities to ensure it is safe, cost-effective and reliable for operation.
