

QML24 Announced Special Introductory Limited Time Period Offer

Auxilium Global Services works very closely with worldwide coaches and training institutes and as a result the next version will even include enhanced features.

RITTERHUDE, LOWER SAXONY, GERMANY, October 13, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Are you feeling frustrated by your administration of your coaching and training business? Do you want to focus more on your clients than on your paperwork? Do you want to add more value to your clients? Have you ever considered getting an easy coaching business platform that helps you to do what you really good at; hence focus on your coaching and trainings!

QML24, the easiest way to administrate your coaching clients, track their progress and design your own coaching questionnaires to ensure your clients achieve their outcomes much faster!

“Roel Schaart loves what he does to support his clients as an international peak performance results coach and that has been the foundation of our platform QML24®, says Holger Rathje, associated partner of Auxilium Global Services. “The idea to help coaches was created at the end of 2013, when Roel attended one of the most important Business Seminars in London”.

“Because we are 100% convinced about the beauty and simple way to use the platform, we have decided to have a special QML24® introductory offer.

You will get 1st year subscription just at a $ 57 USD price tag, and you save $ 218 USD. This unique offer is valid till 31st December 2015.

“As a member of the board for the ICF - German Chapter, Roel has a close connections with many coaches and institutes. Most of the enhanced functions and features are a direct reflection from the expert in the field. That is one of the key reasons QML24® is fulfilling the needs of many coaches”, explained Holger Rathje.

The QML24® user community is always welcome to ask for changes and new features if they cannot customize those items themselves. They always get a quick response and meanwhile a lot of features which have been asked for are already implemented in the last version of QML24. The team of QML24 is always keen on making QML24 the best tool for its users and the development of QML24 is therefore very close to the daily needs of the coaches.
