JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA, October 15, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Enactus World Cup 2015, 16 semi-final teams, four final round teams for one Enactus World Champion.

Johannesburg, South Africa, for release 16 October 2015 – 16 semi-final round teams now advance to the final round of four at the Enactus World Cup held at the Sandton Convention Centre, Johannesburg with one team to be awarded the title of Enactus World Champion Friday 16 October.

36 teams were given the opportunity to journey to South Africa to a show of excellence. An intense competition of business innovation that creates social impact takes place this week. The final four round of the competition can be watched live at: www.enactus.org/WorldCup/.

The electrified opening ceremony of the EWC featured a commanding performance of the popular African Footprint. The inspiring opening address was delivered by the new Chairman of Enactus Worldwide Board of Directors, Kees Kruthoff, President of Unilever, NA. Nkosazana Dlamini-Zuma gave a riveting talk focusing upon Women's Economic Empowerment and encouraged all countries of the world to become part of Enactus.

The sold out event included a global Parade of Nations and a presentation of the 2030 United Nations Development Sustainable Development goals (SDGs).

In his opening address, new Enactus Board Chairman Kees Kruthoff said: "Enactus is playing a vital role in giving university students an amazing launch pad fueled by entrepreneurial action to create a better world for us all. It's working—we've impacted nearly 2 million lives this year alone."

African Union, Chairperson, Nkosazana Dlamini-Zuma encouraged participating students to be inspired by Mandela's quote of "Sometimes if falls upon a generation to be great, you can be that generation". This was further conveyed by Global Head of Citizenship, KPMG International, Lord Dr. Michael Hastings. The presence of 90 staff from global presenting sponsor, KPMG at the Enactus World Cup further reiterates KPMG's love, support and commitment to Enactus.

On the morning of Friday 16 October, 16 Semi-finalist teams will advance to the Final Round of four teams to present their team social impact projects.

The advancing teams are in the following leagues:

League One:

South Africa, Kyrgyzstan, Morocco and Egypt

League Two:
