

Temple Mount: a Detonator for World War III

The Temple Institute's ultimate goal is to see Israel rebuild the holy Temple on Temple Mount in Jerusalem, in accordance with the Biblical commandments.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 21, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Founded in 1987, the Temple Institute — the most prominent of some 30 ultra-Orthodox/Zionist organisations vociferously calling for the rebuilding of the Temple and the reinstatement of ritual sacrifice — is categoric and uncompromising in stating that its ultimate goal is to rebuild a “Third Jewish Temple” on Temple Mount — though there is no evidence whatsoever as to the existence of a “First Temple” — because Judaism regards the Temple Mount as the place where God chose the Divine Presence to rest:

“Here am I, and the children the Lord has given me. We are signs and symbols in Israel from the Lord Almighty, who dwells on Mount Zion”
Isaiah 8:18

Furthermore, according to the rabbinic sages — whose debates produced the Talmud — it was from here that the world expanded into its present form and from where the Abrahamic God gathered the dust used to create Adam, the first man. According Young Earth Creationism (<http://influence.99k.org/youngearththeory.htm>) based on the Genesis creation narrative, all of this occurred during a relatively short period of time somewhere between 5,700 and 10,000 years ago.

The problem with using Biblical myths to justify or legitimise religious or political claims of the present, is that such myths are easily disproved by irrefutable scientific evidence. Scientific consensus, for example, with backing from a 2006 statement by sixty-eight national and international academies, asserts that evidence-based fact derived from observations and experiments in multiple scientific disciplines show that the universe existed almost 14 billion years ago in an extremely hot and dense state. It was about that time, according to the Big Bang theory, that the universe then began to cool and expand towards its present dispersed state with the earth being formed 4.5 billion years ago and life first appearing no less than 2.5 billion years ago. That self-induced expansion is still ongoing to this day without any influence or input from some God or Supreme Being.

As for Adam being created on Temple Mount, it is now an established fact that the evolution of human beings — Homo sapiens — first began definitely in Africa (either East or South) where archaeological evidence of our ancestral Y chromosome and mtDNA (mitochondrial DNA) has been discovered. It must therefore be very disconcerting for white supremacists and other like-minded people to learn that geneticists have identified groups of chromosomes called haplogroups — “genetic fingerprints” which define populations — that trace their ancestral origins to the “subhuman” races of Africa. The ethnocentric concepts of a God Chosen People, a Master Race, or the feasibility of producing perfect “Racial Purity” as in the Nazi Lebensborn breeding programme

(<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lebensborn>), are therefore unadulterated racist nonsense. “Everyone has the right to freedom of thought, conscience and religion; this right includes freedom to change his religion or belief, and freedom, either alone or in community with others and in public or private, to manifest his religion or belief in teaching, practice, worship and observance.”

Article 18 of The Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

“Here am I, and the children the Lord has given me. We are signs and symbols in Israel from the Lord Almighty, who dwells on Mount Zion”

Isaiah 8:18

While all individuals have — and quite correctly so — the right to pursue the religious beliefs of their choice, they have no right whatsoever to either impose those beliefs on others, or to use such beliefs as justification for committing crimes against humanity as is the case of Judaism’s persecution of the Palestinian people. Any suggestion by some Jews that Judaism is not represented by Israel and therefore Israeli crimes have nothing to do with Judaism is without doubt disingenuous because Judaism cannot have it both ways — Israel is either a Jewish state or it is not!

There is no escaping the fact that in the May 14, 1948 The Declaration of the Establishment of the State of Israel (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Israeli_Declaration_of_Independence) the document categorically defines Israel as a Jewish state. It stresses that the sovereign authority in Israel is the Jewish people: “This right is the natural right of the Jewish people to be masters of their own fate, like all other nations, in their own sovereign state.” It repeatedly uses phrases to emphasise the point that “Jewish people . . . in its own country,” “Jewish people to rebuild its national home,” “Jewish state,”

“right of the Jewish people to establish their state,” “Jewish people in the upbuilding of its state,” and “sovereign Jewish people.” It should be noted that in their infinite holy wisdom, the Jewish people have decided that the document’s reference to “. . . people to be masters of their own fate, like all other nations, in their own sovereign state,” is not applicable to the Palestinian people who after all do not actually “exist,” and if they do, then they are no better than “beasts.”
