

Voice of the Gatekeepers St. Germain & the Council of Light to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

LANDER, WYOMING, USA, November 16, 2015 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At the core of your spiritual being there is a connection between the sacred essence and your physical, mental and emotional self. Spirit seeks to embrace the totality of who you are and help you to realize the magic of all that you are.

In the illusion we've lived in for thousands of years, we've separated spirit and set it over to one side. Perhaps we'll go to church or temple every now and then to and have some communication with God, but there's a lot of magick we've missing out on by not living that connection to God 7 days a week. As we begin to look to put this magick back into our lives, we begin to come home to ourselves. It brings a whole new meaning to living outside the box.

Molly Rowland is a trans-channel for St. Germain and the Council of Light. Known as the Voice of the Gatekeepers, Molly seeks to offer light to all of those who are awakening from darkness and to bring enlightenment and healing to all who seek it

"I always had a sense of knowing there was something more than just daily life, even when I was small," says Molly. "Everyone is a channel but not everyone would choose to do what I do. This came with the package when I was born."

According to Molly, channeling is how human beings receive spiritual information. When someone says they have been inspired, they have received information through the pipeline to their spiritual channel and their connection to spirit. The word "trans-channeling" means to bridge across dimensions, and the Ascended Master St. Germain has been channeling through Molly for nearly 30 years.

"People who call and work with St. Germain are genuinely dedicated to making life changes," says Molly. "St. Germain is a master at getting people in touch with themselves understanding what they want, what they're about, why they're here."

Molly believes if the advice and counsel of the Ascended Masters works for her, she knows their teachings will create life changing healing for any who are willing to apply these truths to their lives. Spiritual development is an “allow-it-for-yourself” project, and the Masters are willing to assist our changes if we are willing to accept their help.

“We're so much more powerful than we have been allowed to consider,” says Molly. “I'm humbled that I get to be a participant in this wonderful process.”

CUTV News Radio will feature Molly Rowland in an interview with Doug Llewelyn on November 18th at 3pm EST.
